The Dialogue Project and the Peace Task Force invite you to join a Circle of Diaspora Palestinians, Israelis and Jews as we come together for conversation and deep dialogue

The Dialogue Project is a non-profit educational organization that has been gathering people for intimate, face-to-face dialogue since March 2001. It aims to establish guidelines for conversation and create a safe environment where people learn to move beyond stereotypes and myths about the “other.” Participants share personal experiences of life in Israel and Palestine and break down the walls of silence that have grown around neighbors and co-workers throughout New York. The panelists will explore issues of safety, security and identity.

- Rev. Khader El Yateem, Palestinian American Christian Minister of the Salaam Arabic Church in Brooklyn (born in Beit Jala, Palestine)
- Jennifer Besch – Dialogue Facilitator-Director of Westchester CLUSTER Mediation Services (born in New York)
- Yehuda Erlichman, Israeli American (born in Jaffa)
- Marcia Kannry, founder of the Dialogue Project, native New Yorker and Jewish American/Israeli resident (born in New York)
- Salem Mikdadi, Palestinian American Muslim (born in Kuwait, raised in Jerusalem).

*This program is sponsored by The Dialogue Project (www.thedialogueproject.org) and the Peace Task Force (www.peacetaskforcenyc.org). Cosponsors include Artists for Humanity, Community Church Action for Justice Committee, and Not In Our Name Education Committee.
